Daniel Kim

Dear Daniel,

Writing and publishing an Advanced Precalculus textbook is certainly an impressive accomplishment. To do this as a high school student is extraordinary! Not only do you need a deep understanding of the subject matter, you also need the drive and tenacity to see the project through. Starting with the recognition that this specific type of textbook would be useful, and then the realization that your class notes would provide a strong base for your endeavor, you began this challenging task. The end result is an organized format and detailed explanations that should prove very helpful for precalculus students. I commend you for taking on this task and seeing it to completion. Congratulations!

I appreciate that your Preface includes an expression of gratitude to Dr. Abramson, your fellow students and the Bergen County Academies. We are all very proud of you for this accomplishment. I hope that this process was rewarding and educational for you, and that all your future endeavors will bring you a great sense of a satisfaction.

I wish you continued success in your academic and extra-curricular pursuits.

Sincerely,

Mr. Russell Davis
Principal
